AN APOSTROPHE?

One day I was wearing my COMMA pin and the woman in the check-out line in front of me noticed it and asked, 'Is that an apostrophe?' Of course I explained about the Comma reminding us that God is still speaking. And then I realized that it could very easily be an Apostrophe - reminding us that we are God's beloved children. We BELONG to God! We are invited to be about God's work of caring for all others who also BELONG to God!

As God's beloved child we ask - Who am I? - What am I? - Why am I here? - What is my purpose? - Am I living it out? - What does God require of me at this time and in this place?

These are the same questions that local churches ask themselves when they are searching for a new pastor or looking over the last year and ahead to the next at Annual Meeting times. How clear are the members of your congregation about the identity of your church? Can your members articulate to one another, to neighbors and co-workers - What is our church about? Who is our church in my town? Why does our church exist? What is its purpose for being? Is our church living out its purpose? Does it make a difference in the lives of our members and our town? What does God require of our church at this time and in this place?

I think that most people would say that they are clear about their local church. However, how clear are your members about the denomination your congregation is a part of? There are many denominations and each one has unique characteristics about how they connect with local congregations. In the United Church of Christ there are local churches, Associations, Conferences, General Synod. All belong to one another in a chosen covenantal relationship to speak to and with one another about what God is requiring of those who love God and yearn to serve all whom God loves - to seek justice, mercy, peace and love for the well-being of the world and the humanity God loves.

Every one of those settings also must be asking those same questions - who are we? - what are we? - why are we here? - what is our purpose? - are we living it out? - how are we making a difference in the lives of our members and our neighbors? - wherever they are?

Our Vermont Conference is about to enter a time of Visioning and Strategic Planning for the next 5 to 10 years. Aren't we all trying to figure out how to be church in 2018 when everything around us swirls with change and uncertainty, fear and hate and violence?

One good first step is to root ourselves in our calling and our identity as a people of faith - a people who have chosen to live as the United Church of Christ. Perhaps this is the year for every church and every member in the Vermont Conference to explore our UCC History, Polity, and Theology. There is a new resource to help us do just that. It provides a number of sessions from which can be chosen those topics which are pertinent to particular audiences - Adult forums, new member classes, confirmation classes, Church Governing Boards, Search and Call Committees and Church and Ministry Committees - or whatever you dream up!

Please consider carefully this invitation to wander back through our UCC history and Identity in order to more clearly see our future as God's Continuing Testament in a world that so needs God's Good News as much or more than it ever has.

VT CONFERENCE NEWS

2018 Annual Meeting of the Vermont Conference of the United Church of Christ
Lake Morey Inn, Fairlee, Vermont

Dear Members and Friends of the Vermont Conference,

I want to warmly invite you to the Vermont Conference Annual Meeting to be held at the Lake Morey Inn on April 27-28, 2018.

Our conference theme is I Love to Tell the Story - Sharing Stories of Faith in the 21st Century.

We are excited to welcome Susanne Schmidt as our keynote speaker/facilitator. Sue is a comedic storyteller, a sought after speaker and teacher and the regional producer for The Moth of NPR fame. As a Licensed Clinical Mental Health Counselor, trainer and speaker, Susanne's compelling and humorous presentations assist listeners to understand the power of stories to heal. In 2013, Susanne launched her latest endeavor, Say It Forward Productions. Designed with the intention of promoting the power of stories for good, Susanne works with organizations to tell their own stories. We look forward to hearing Susanne as a presenter and workshop leader. She will also be organizing a "story slam" for Friday evening.

In addition to the important work of the Conference, we have an abundance of workshops for learning, spiritual renewal and living out our faith in actions of justice. Worship will be woven throughout the meeting and incorporate what we learn as telling the stories of our faith and life.

Registration will be open by March 1st. You can make your room reservations directly with Lake Morey at any time. There is scholarship money available. Churches with under 50 members can get a scholarship including full registration and meals for one person.

I look forward to seeing you at Lake Morey!

The process for entering your church's 2017 data is done completely online! The national office of the UCC has created Church Yearbook Instructions to help guide you through the process.

Should you have any questions or need assistance as you work through this process, please contact Sherri at ministriescoordinator@vtcucc.org

Got a History Story?

There is interest in holding a workshop for the VTC Annual Meeting April 27-28 at Lake Morey Resort, celebrating the stories from our church's' history. Many of our churches were established in the 1700s. We know some of the stories. Let's share them with each other in a workshop. Please let Diane Holme know of your interest in participating. The format has not been finalized, but at this point we are thinking 3-5 minutes per story. This is going to be a most amazing journey back in time!

"This is the true joy in life, the being used for a purpose recognized by yourself as a mighty one; the being thoroughly worn out before you are thrown on the scrap heap; the being a force of nature instead of a feverish selfish little clod of ailments and grievances complaining that the world will not devote itself to making you happy."

PEACEMAKER'S PULPIT
January 2018

I have been thinking about peace lately. The Hebrew word for peace is "shalom," which means so much more than lack of violence. Shalom implies completeness and wholeness. In looking up definitions for shalom, I learned from several sources that shalom refers to the inclusion of opposites. For instance, shalom is used as both a hello and a good-bye. It can mean peace between opposing parties or opposing viewpoints that take into consideration both parties or viewpoints.

Shalom led me to thinking about the Household of God. In a household which includes the householder, all of his/her land, his/her dependents, his/her slaves/servants and his/her livestock, I suspect there would be found opposing viewpoints related to many issues. Shalom would include toleration for opposing viewpoints so long as respect, fealty, and working for the common good prevail. That strikes me as completeness or wholeness. The householder treats everyone in the household with justice tempered with mercy and members of the household do likewise.

We, who call ourselves "peacemakers," understand that peace and justice are intrinsically combined. I wonder though, if we have considered the way of peace as described by "shalom." Peace that means the inclusion of opposites; peace that includes opposing views, yet working together toward a common goal. Peace that excludes violence in all its forms in thought, word and deed. This year it is my intention to pay more attention to those viewpoints that oppose my own and to look for where I can find common ground. I hope that intention will lead me toward more peace within myself. Perhaps Jesus calls us to not only work toward peace through justice, but to become the very peace we seek.

Shalom, sisters and brothers!
