Message from the Conference

Dear Beloved Community in the Vermont Conference,

This week I read two powerful articles about climate change. The first was the summary report from the U.N. climate panel's comprehensive assessment of climate change entitled "Code Red for Humanity." This is a sobering report that each and every one of us needs to read. The hardest word for me to hear is that in multiple ways the damage to our climate has passed the point of no return. There is nowhere to hide and no room for denial of the drastic changes causing fire, record breaking and dangerous heat, drought, flooding, hurricanes, the loss of lowlands to a rising sea level, and the disproportionate misery of peoples who are poor and forgotten.

This is the world God gave us to be stewards, caretakers, lovers of this planet. Instead, we have allowed greed and denial to move far far away from these sacred tasks. UCC minister and climate change activist Jim Antal writes in his book, Climate Church, Climate World.

"Only by fully grieving all that we have lost can we fully enter into the new tomorrow that God is preparing. We have so much to mourn: personal grief over loved ones lost and homes destroyed; ubiquitous grief over the long emergency that has straight-jacketed our lives; and anticipatory grief over the catastrophe that we are handing over to our children....We need to acknowledge our grief over the ongoing ruination of Creation. Only by doing so can we be receptive to a message of hope." (quote taken from Cameron Trimble, CEO of Convergence)

The second article was in the Washington Post. This is a piercingly honest portrait in picture and word regarding climate change. You can find that article here: https://apple.news/AgF73VgqaRfm98HM5-mg5tg . Phillip Kennicott, the author of the article talks about the dangers of despair and what it might take to break through
When many of us are already feeling overwhelmed by new variants of COVID and continuing struggles for racial justice and a nation that can seem hopelessly divided, the realities of climate change looms large. When feeling overwhelmed, I hope we remember that while there are certainly things we cannot change there are also things we can. Now is a time for grief and remorse, courage and hope.

In peace and hope,
Lynn

August Peacemakers’ Pulpit

Christopher Ashley, Norwich Congregational Church, UCC

Matthew:25, 34-35
“For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink”

I and others from our church volunteer a couple of hours each week at a Willing Hands garden. We plant, grow, and harvest vegetables to be given away at local VT and NH food shelves, social service organizations, and nonprofits. Driving home, hot and sweaty, I imagine hearing Jesus telling us to feed the hungry. I hope my relatively few hours in that garden is a way to follow in his footsteps.

Willing Hands grows vegetables in 3 gardens and “gleans” fresh food from farms, grocery stores, restaurants and wholesalers to give for free to 80 social service organizations across the Upper Valley of VT and NH. 30,000 individuals are provided
I googled to see what other “feeding the hungry” opportunities are out there. I vaguely knew that there are other organizations that provide food to people all over Vermont. I found the Vermont Foodbank along with several other groups and directories of where people could get food for those who are hungry. The Vermont Foodbank distributes food at hundreds locations around the state to anyone who needs it. According to its website, over 150 VT farms and food producers are involved. They also deliver food to folks who cannot come to a distribution center. Volunteers are key in these efforts.

Many people reading this already know about these activities because our UCC Churches are distribution center locations, and many members of our Congregations already give their time. However, there is always a need for more “Willing Hands” as we work together to feed the hungry. If you are interested, please checkout one of these organizations.

The Racial Justice Task Force Needs You!!

"I joined this group because I've come to realize that all the issues of justice are interconnected, in the spirit of Traci Blackmon's keynote on Crossroads. My own passion is the environment, and you can't separate a healthy environment out from racial justice, since unhealthy environments have disproportionate impacts on communities of color, causing immense suffering. In the group, I appreciate the way we've explored many facets of activism around this issue, ranging from self-examination and book study, to political witness, to community collaborations, and as an activist myself, I've gained insight into the ways these different forms of racial justice advocacy all work together."

- Fred Taylor

HAL & BETTsy
Knew the Joys & Costs of Seminary.

They met at Andover Newton; were ordained; and then mentored, counseled & encouraged generations of clergy.

To honor Hal & Bettsy, we are establishing a fund in their name through the Vermont Conference of the United Church of Christ.

"A scholarship in my parents' name... would be the height of immodesty. And the family's great joy." - Jeremy Harrison

Once funded to size, these gifts will be transferred to Andover Newton Seminary at Yale with the intent of funding an endowed Harrison Scholarship.

You may send gifts to: Harrison Fund

United Church of Thetford featured on VPR!!
“When Erika Hoffman-Kiess first heard about people applauding for frontline workers in big cities, she didn’t think that would work so well in her town of Thetford. “There are some places in Vermont where you can go outside your door and bang a pot and pan and nothing’s going to happen because nobody hears you,” she said. “But we do have a lot of churches.”

And those churches have bells."

2021 Clergy Convocation Registration is OPEN!!!

Monday, Oct 4th – Wednesday, Oct 6th
At The Craftsbury Outdoor Center
(note the NEW location)

Theme: “Leaning Into Change When We Don’t Know Where We Might Land”

Just like riding a bike, when the roads ahead of our communities shift, we need to both turn and lean into the turn to keep our balance. In this post-Covid season, we know we need to turn, but knowing how and which way to lean is both essential and hard to imagine when we can’t see the path ahead. This convocation is about learning how to lean into a turn in community, discerning the path together and building the muscles and practices to stay balanced and agile in the face of turns.

You can currently register at Early Bird prices, however these will go up by the end of the summer.

We Are All Children of God - creating intergenerational church Online, In-Person, and Hybrid
Tuesday, August 17
2:00 - 3:00 PM Eastern
Leader - Rebecca Stevens-Walter

How do we create church (not just worship) where all ages are truly invited? How do we do this online? in person? hybrid? Jesus said, "Let the little children come to me." In this directive, we are called to create church that leaves no one distanced or left out from learning about and experiencing the love of Jesus. This webinar will explore some of the opportunities churches have to engage people of all ages in the life of the community. We'll look at worship models, community standards, and safety measures meant to create space, both online and offline, for congregants to come together and practice faith in the ancient way of intentionally intergenerational community.
